1 Don't tell me that you love me | I've got nothing left in turn

2 Except this empty bag of promises | And second degree burns

3 On the tips of my fingers From [Gadd6] touching certain fruit

4 That I never should have touched in the first place

5 Well the sky's raining fire | But I think I'll go to bed

6 Because there aint much you can do When it rains down on your head

7 Except pray and beg for mercy From this hell that you created

8 On the corner of Satan and St. Paul

9 And my [Amadd9] cup it runneth over

10 And it [Amadd9] runs down in my eyes

11 Maybe when [Amadd9] I'm a little older

12 I won't tell myself so many lies

13 Well it took me twenty years Just to find myself a pen

14 For to write down all the words Just to scratch them out again

15 I could use another twenty years To fix the last fifteen

16 But it never seems to work to my advantage

17 Now I'm walking here on rusted nails With broken wings and battered sails

18 I told you that I'm leaving But I'm probably telling lies

19 If only I could make it out To Denver, Colorado

20 I'd book it out of Satan and St. Paul
